Jane's Birthday

Last Sunday was Jane's birthday. She had a party with her family and friends at home. She got a lot of birthday presents. When she opened them excitedly, the bell rang. Then she ran to open the door. She saw two clowns there. Her parents invited them to perform an exciting show at the party. It was fun. Everyone was very happy except Jane. She was afraid of clowns.

Suddenly, the clowns took off their masks. They were Jane's uncle and aunt. 'Happy birthday, Jane!' said her uncle and aunt. She was surprised. She was very happy. Everyone enjoyed the party very much.
