

Aplichau Kaifong Primary School

5A Xu Yingying, Veronica

Mum's Birthday Surprise

It was Mum's birthday today. Steve decided to be the cook on his mum's birthday this year. He thought she would be really touched when she knew she did not have to cook today.

Steve followed the instructions on the Internet. First, he beat the eggs in a bowl. Next, he cut the sausages into pieces. After that, he poured the eggs into the pan. Then, he added in the ham and the rice. Finally, he put rice into the rice cooker. Steve exclaimed, 'Great!' The surprise is almost ready. Just wait a little longer.'

Then, he rested himself on the bed in his mum's bedroom since he just needed to wait for some time for the rice to cook. All of a sudden, he found that he forgot to plug in the rice cooker. He ran to the kitchen at once. 'Oh, no! My surprise is gone.' He exclaimed disappointedly.

Just then, Mum came back. She asked, 'What are you doing?' Steve replied, 'Today is your birthday. I want to give you a surprise, but I screwed up.' 'Don't be sad,' Mum comforted him kindly. 'It's OK, let's cook the rice together.'

At the end, they ate the fried rice together happily.

It was really a special surprise.

(207 words)