My wonderful trip to 2008 Beijing Olympic Games

I have a wonderful memory of glory this summer. My school had won a civil Education competition sponsored by the Education Bureau (教育局), and the prize was an invitation for three (a teacher and two students) to the Olympic Games in Beijing. What a wonderful prize my school had won! I am glad the opportunity to go.

August 13 was a busy day for us. Early in the morning on that day, we went to watch a hockey (曲棍球) competition in the Beijing Olympics Green Hockey Stadium(北京奧林匹克公園曲棍球場). The stadium was so big it took us a long time to find our seats. Luckily, a kind volunteer came and helped us.

The competition was between China and Korea. It was an amazing and exciting game. Most of the spectators supported China. However, the Korean team was extremely strong and China lost eventually. I was disappointed.

Later that evening, we watched the beach volleyball competition. During the competition, the spectators sang and even did the Mexican wave (人浪). Although we were tired, we enjoyed the competition and atmosphere very much.

I will never forget this trip. Not only was it the first time I travelled on a plane, but it was also the first time I watched the Olympic live (現場). During the trip, I had learnt to take care of myself and make friends with others. But, most of all, I got to see many excellent athletes who have set good examples for us and whose examples are worth learning from.
